

Special Thanks

Kevin Green, The Clean Air Campaign

Kevin Green has served as the executive director with The Clean Air Campaign for the past two and a half years. Mr. Green was also held the position of vice president of environmental affairs with the Metro Chamber of Commerce, where he addressed transportation and multi-media (air, land and water) policy issues. He is the past chair of the board of directors for the Institute for Georgia Environmental Leadership and currently serves on the board of Trustee of the Livable Communities Coalition. He graduated from James Madison University and holds a law degree from Emory University.

Kelvin Matthews, Crafts Unique

We are featuring the original work of local artist Kelvin Matthews. He has been creating unique three-dimensional art for over 10 years. His showcase of architectural metal art compliments any décor. All artwork is handmade and original, and no two pieces are exactly alike. To view Mr. Matthews's latest creations, call (803) 622-6146. You may also visit his web site at www.matthewscraftsunique.com.
